My dear Mr. Rowell:

Many thanks for your letter. I am very glad that you did not press the matter with regard to the four men at Salonica, and I have to thank you for your consideration.

The more I looked into the question the more I felt that we should be involved in difficulties should we discriminate, and in any case damage might be done to the quality of the degree. As you are aware external societies are very sensitive regarding any infringements that are made with standards. At present there is an investigation being conducted by the American Medical Association into the quality and standards of the various medical degrees in Canada.

With kind regards, I am,

Yours sincerely,

President.
